Safe Camp and Code of Conduct

All conference participants are expected to adhere to the AISES standards of conduct. We invite all those who participate in the 2022 AISES Leadership Summit to help us create safe and positive experiences for everyone.

SAFE CAMP

The AISES Leadership Summit is a “Safe Camp,” meaning this is a welcoming, inclusive, supportive, and safe environment for all our AISES family members regardless of race, color, sex, religion, sexual orientation, or gender expression/identity. Safe Camp includes recognizing the AISES Code of Conduct and anyone found violating the code will be asked to leave the conference immediately. Please contact any AISES staff member or board member if you have any questions.

CODE OF CONDUCT

The American Indian Science and Engineering Society (AISES) was established with the goal of developing Native professionals and leaders in the areas of science, technology, engineering and math. In light of this goal, the first student leaders of AISES developed a set of principles that prohibits alcohol, illegal drugs, and harassment. These principals have become core values of the organization and are incorporated as the Code of Conduct.

The AISES Code of Conduct promotes professional development and personal growth by strictly prohibiting the use of intoxicating drugs or alcohol and all forms of harassment and discrimination. This code is meant to reflect the ideals of our Native communities by establishing an expectation that we agree to protect and promote the well-being and growth of all people. This code is expected to be honored when individuals are representing the AISES organization and by all persons participating in AISES activities. To this end, each person is asked to adhere to this code and promote its intent by refraining from prohibited activities and encouraging others to do the same.

AISES will continue to maintain the Code of Conduct as a symbol reflective of the teachings and values of our ancestors. The Code of Conduct represents the ideas and visions set forth by the AISES founders and the student leadership. AISES values and respects the rights and privileges of others and asks that you honor the AISES organization, its mission, and the family of AISES by adhering to this Code of Conduct.

Guiding Principles for Equity in Organizations

1. Acknowledge that culture plays a predominate role in living, learning and working.

2. Recognize that conflict exists (even if we can’t see them) between our professional discourses and the discourses of our students, peers, and colleagues – especially those from non-mainstream (underrepresented) cultures.

3. Acknowledge the benefits of diversity in perspectives, interpretations, solutions, and practices to improve our practice, our science, our schools, and our businesses.

4. Make a commitment to regularly explore different cultures – and not with the intention of coming to know or understand them (the other cultures) – but with an eye to understanding more about yourself.

5. Acknowledge how important it is to invite culture into your practice so people from other cultures are not asked (unfairly) to check their identities at the door to be successful.

6. Cultivate a supportive community (both inside and outside of your organization) that supports and grows your efforts toward equity.
2022 Leadership Summit

Tours
The Great Oak, known as Wi’áašal by Pechanga people, is recognized as the largest naturally grown indigenous coast live oak (Quercus agrifolia) in the Western United States. Its trunk is over 20 feet in circumference, and the above-ground portion of the tree is nearly 100 feet tall. Wi’áašal’s largest branches reach the ground, supporting the tree’s weight and creating a sheltering canopy for countless generations of people and animals. The Great Oak is over 1,000 years old, making it one of the oldest living oak trees in the Western United States. Part of the Great Oak’s significance lies in the fact that, despite its great age, it continues to produce acorns, one of the foods that sustained native Californians for thousands of years before the arrival of Europeans. The Great Oak produces acorns every two to three years.

The 2022 Leadership Summit host sponsor, the Pechanga Band of Luiseño Indians, is offering tours of The Great Oak and Cultural Knowledge Grounds to attendees.

• Each 45-minute tour is limited to 25 attendees.
• Sign up is required through the Summit registration system.
• To modify your registration record:
  Go to [https://events.aises.org/ereg/modifyreg.php?eventid=648230].

Enter the email address used at registration and the reference number assigned to your registration record. Both these items are listed in your confirmation email.

• Each tour group will meet the Pechanga shuttle bus outside the lobby entrance.
• Please arrive 10 minutes prior to departure time to check-in.
• Comfortable shoes (tennis or flat) are recommended for walking around the The Great Oak and Cultural Knowledge grounds.
The Pechanga Band of Indians proudly supports the American Indian Science and Engineering Society (AISES) Leadership Summit of 2022

The Pechanga Band of Indians proudly supports higher education and encourages our people and all Native Americans to choose paths in the science, technology, engineering and math fields of study. As Native Americans, we are all faced with the challenge of protecting our culture, heritage and natural resources and careers in the STEM fields are critical to that protection.

Boozhoo,

Welcome to the 2022 AISES Leadership Summit. We are excited to gather at the Pechanga Resort Casino in the Temecula Valley for three days of learning opportunities and supportive camaraderie. AISES is pleased you have chosen to join us on the ancestral lands of the Pechanga (Luiseño) people. We honor and acknowledge all that reside in these traditional homelands and who have stewarded this land and water for generations.

Two and a half years into the pandemic, we are eager to come together for one of the most valued learning events at AISES. Pandemics are nothing new to the Indigenous people of Turtle Island. We are resilient and survive like our ancestors, maybe in a different way in these modern times.

As always, this year’s summit offers participants a high caliber of speakers, workshops, and sessions, along with the chance to get actionable answers about the leadership qualities and skills you will need to be successful in today’s workforce.

The pandemic has caused unprecedented disruption and shifts. The toll that hybrid work, remote education, technology challenges, and social isolation have taken has yet to be calculated. In one effort, the Bureau of Labor Statistics is tracking the current “Great Resignation,” where millions of Americans are retiring or otherwise leaving the workforce. The inevitable result is an increased demand for workers. To stay competitive, U.S. companies need critical staff across all sectors. That’s where you come in.

At this Leadership Summit, you’ll meet AISES members who are students, professionals, specialists, and scholars from across Canada and the U.S. – including Hawaii and Alaska. Because the Leadership Summit is a gathering where you can get to know people on a first-name basis, I encourage you to take advantage of the informal gatherings at the summit to network, share ideas, and build friendships and collaboration.

We especially encourage students to participate in sessions and build rapport with our treasured Council of Elders, who take their roles seriously and generously share their wisdom. Their wisdom is grounding, and their support is unending.

At the summit, you’ll have an opportunity to visit, Wi’áašal, the Great Oak. The Pechanga people recognize Wi’áašal as the largest naturally grown indigenous coast live oak in the western United States. Its trunk is 20 feet in circumference, and its height reaches nearly 100 feet. Visit this ancient ancestor for continual strength and energy to grow.

We know you will have a good time. Thank you for being here!

Gitchi-Manidoo (Creator), keep everyone and our communities in your prayers.

Miigwetch,

Michael Laverdure
AISES Board Chair
Miiyu-miiyu!

On behalf of the Pechanga Payómkawichum people, the Pechanga Tribal Council welcomes you to the Pechanga Resort and Casino. We congratulate the American Science and Engineering Society (AISES) for its 2022 Leadership Summit. We are proud to host a group of bright Native students and professionals in science, technology, engineering, arts and math, and support your efforts in becoming leaders in your respective fields.

Our people have called the Temecula Valley home since time immemorial. We believe the world was created here in the Temecula Valley – known as ‘Ex’va Teméeku. The Pechanga Band invests in preserving and practicing our many traditional ways. Knowing our customs and traditions connects us to our worldview as individuals and as a community. Our practices of basketry and rattle-making and our approach to traditional foods, hunting, and gathering allows us to more deeply understand our relationships with the earth. Today, our tribe has developed structured programs to revitalize and educate today’s citizenship and future generations in their Chamtéela language, culture and history.

Our modern economic story started in 1995 when we opened the Pechanga Entertainment Center. Our people had a simple but powerful vision: to create jobs for our Tribal Members; to generate revenues for fundamental and modest tribal programs like reliable drinking water, basic healthcare, cultural protection for future generations, and educational opportunities for our young people.

We opened in temporary facilities with only 135 employees but a fervent desire to break the cycle of poverty and despair which had long-impacted our Tribe. Since then, and thanks to the guidance and wisdom of our Tribe, the loyalty and hard work of our Team Members, and the friendship and support of surrounding communities, Pechanga is now responsible for employing more than 3500 people and have a total economic impact of nearly $1 billion.

The Pechanga Band has always been an advocate for education opportunities for tribal youth. This is why we recently established the Wi’aaalal (Great Oak) Future Leaders Scholarship Fund by Pechanga. We will contribute $3 million annually into this new and innovative fund to provide enrolled members of non-gaming and limited gaming tribes in California with scholarships for undergraduate, graduate and professional education. We have partnered with the American Indian College Fund to help administer this Wi’aaalal Future Leaders Scholarship Fund to invest in our future generations. These next generations will lead Indian Country in the 21st century.

We applaud AISES for their continuing efforts to enhance the skills and knowledge of Native students and professionals in various careers in science, technology, engineering and math. We wish you a successful 2022 Leadership Summit and thank you for the privilege of hosting this Summit.

On behalf of the Pechanga Tribal Council,

Mark Macarro

For many years, I was not allowed to celebrate my culture or who I am. I was scared to even check a box saying that I was Native or Indigenous. But people around me at Wayfair have helped me to be proud of who I am, because they’ve shown me they’re proud of who they are and that everybody is made in their own way.
